

This application does not require many sources. Two DJs with their microphones can perform using six inputs in the stage box. The main system needs two outputs per side to feed the powered Line Array satellites and a couple of outputs for the subs. Two additional outputs are used with powered side-fill monitor for the performers. If the front house mixer is equipped with a Dante module the CAT5e cable can be directly connected to the console or to an Ethernet switch for networking.